THE annexation of New Guinea by the Queensland Government is, we gather from the latest received Australian papers, the latest and most daring development of the policy of the vigorous Premier of that Co- days lony, Sir Thomas Mollwratte. To this gentleman's energy Queensland is indebted for her direct mail service with Great Britain, and to him is due the inception of a scheme for a Trans-Australian Rullway con- poriod necting Brisbane with the Gulf of Carpentaria. It does not appear that the annex ation of New Guines was brought about by left Aberdeen docks, and the British steamer fair example of the olfa podride of nationalities any immediate probability of that vast tropical territory being soized by a foreign yesterday. Sir Thomas McIlwearth alleges, however, in justification of his act, Paris, with an ultimatum in his boot. This is and I from each of the following countries: that some years ago, when the question was mooted by the Australian Colonies, the Imperial Government yielded so far as to sauction the annexation provided the Colonies bore the expense of administering the new territory. The Queensland Government are now ready to pay the cost of governing the new dependency, and Sir THOMAS urges that, this being the case, the Imperial Goverament cannot refuse to sanction the step he har thus taken. There is no doubt that, on the whole, the enterprising Premier of the youngest of the Australian Colonies is supported in his action by the other provinces. Novertheless his action is decidedly open to criticism. The Sydney Bulletin, commenting on the annexation of New Guinea, says :- "This is quite a new "departure. That a dependency should "assume Imperial functions, and undertake | tell; probably there will be fewer of the emaciated "to annex a territory nearly as large as and "more populous than its own, is probably "unprecedented, especially considering that "the territory to be annexed lies beyond sea, "and distant more than a thousand miles "from the seat of government in the anner- for the defence. A scheme menths at $50 per month, and $462 he had for the reconstitution of the Association as pold into court as the full amount remaining due from him to the plaintiff. The plaintiff, with several partners, carried on business at Canton as coal merchants under the style of the Sin Yneu Cheong. Coals had been stored in Hongkong in the defendant's godown for sale, and in May last year the defendant agreed to take over the whole of the coals then in his possession at $5.20 per ton. The plaintiffs claimed that the quantity was 307 tons, and in support of this part of their case relied on the accounts furnished by the assidant. The defendant, onthe other hand, made out the quantity to be only 330 tons. The pialutiffs also denied that they were defendant and as to whether the defendant was entitled to the charges and commission-claims in the set off. As to the commission, the case set up by the defendant was that he was agent for the plaintiffs, and he claimed a monthly commission for services rendered by him as such, The plaintiff's answer to this was that the de fendant would have been entitled to a commission of five per cent, on sales actually effected by him, but to nothing further.

After hearing the evidence of the plaintif and that of the defendant and a witness called on his behalf, his Lordship gave judgment for the plaintiffs for the amount claimed with costs, less the price of four tons of com which the plaintiffs agreed to forego, it being alleged that on the transfer of a certain portion of the coals from another godown to the defendant's they were found to be four tons short. weight in a masquence of their dryness.

The last arrivals of papers from Shanghai containing the exciting news about Annam have gaused much interest here, and Annamese politics are now the topic of the hour. The Chinese seem greatly stirred up about the matter. The Anna mase ambassadors are still here.
